WHAT MANUFACTURING DOES.

Under the stimulus of the manufacturers in Bristol in the decade from 1870 to 1880, Bristol increased in population over 10 per cent. This increase is due almost to the establishment of manufacturing...

The manufacturers here are spending money constantly in erecting new buildings and buying improved machinery. The additions made to several of the mills in Bristol each year is often equivalent to the erection of a new factory.

The Bristol Improvement Company, which has done so much to add to the prosperity of Bristol, is yet but in its infancy. Established but a few years ago, it was the Bristol Worst Mills, the Keystone Fringe Factory, the Bristol Laundry, the Bristol Keg Factory, and the new building of the Woollen Factory for Mr. James H. Slack.

Democratic headquarters have been provided in the room formerly occupied as a livery stable by Charles Saxton and opposite the Cottage Hotel.

At the regular meeting of the Union Building Association, held last Monday evening, one loan was sold to Jonathan Milne and six to Septimus Tucker at par.

The old buildings in the rear of the Presbyterian Church and those facing Cedar street have been torn down. When the ground is leveled up and sodded it will present a more agreeable appearance than heretofore.

The Court of Common Pleas has granted the application of the Board of School Directors of the School District of Bristol Borough, and authorized the Board to borrow $10,000, or so much thereof, as may be necessary, and to issue bonds for the amount.

A meeting of the Republicans of Bristol Borough was held in Washington Hall last night for the purpose of considering the advisability of forming a marching club. A committee of three from each ward was appointed to canvass their respective wards and report the result at a meeting to be held at the Hall on Monday evening next.

List of letters remaining in the Bristol Post Office, Wednesday, August 11th: Horace Coleman, B. L. Gorton, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. Mary Jones, Mrs. Kate Martin, W. Kelly, Brickmaker, Wm. Murray, John H. Mitchell, Mrs. Jos. Reed, Sr., Howard H. Reeder, Albert Roderick, May J. G. Stratton, Phoebe Ann Tucker, C. Esper White, John Wheeler.

It has been decided to build the Republic wigwam on the corner of Mill and Wood streets, on John McKinley's lot. Its dimensions will be 40 x 80 feet, and will comfortably accommodate about one thousand people. The first meeting will be held about the 20th inst., and will be addressed by ex-Governor Pollock and other able speakers. The ground is being prepared for the erection of the wigwam, and the lumber will be on the ground to-morrow and the carpenters ready to commence the building.

Last Saturday the employees of the Bristol Worst Mills took an excursion to a Breeze. The Steamboat John A. Wanmaker came to Bristol and received about 300 excursionists aboard. Messrs. Grady Brothers & Campion gave the men their time and the day was fully enjoyed by all. The excursion netted about $20 above expenses, and as the project was not a money making one, the excess was donated to the Washington Cornet Band. This in addition to the price paid them for furnishing music for the excursionists, made them up a nice sum towards purchasing their new uniforms.

We have to chronicle another fatal accident caused by negligence in walking on the track of the railroad. On Tuesday morning last a man who was tramping from Philadelphia to New York was struck by an engine near Cold Spring station and killed. The accident happened about five o'clock. A companion who was traveling with him said that he had only met him the day before, that he gave him the name of William Horne, and that he lived in Philadelphia. He also told him that he had a wife and child in Philadelphia, but his wife had "cleaned him out," and that he was on his way to New York. The coroner held an inquest and the usual verdict was given. The man was buried yesterday.

Council Proceedings.

Council met on Monday evening at Council Chamber. All the members were present. The minutes were read and adopted.

The Street Committee reported progress in the various matters referred to it at the previous meeting. On motion the committee was asked to confer with the borough attorney relative to the fence placed across the old Bath road at Mineral Springs, it being claimed by the tenant in possession that the road was vacated when the new road was opened.

BILLS PASSED.

Mr. Hugert presented a resolution directing the clerk to obtain from the several newspaper establishments of the borough sealed proposals for the borough advertising for the balance of the term ending April 1881. Said proposals to state the lowest price per inch for one, two and three insertions.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Scheide, providing that the proposals be accompanied by a sworn statement of the publisher, of the number of papers circulated in the borough. The amendment was adopted, and the original motion was amended was then carried.

On motion the matter of the gutter across Pond street was referred to the Street Committee, with power to act.

Mr. Scheide asked permission of Council for the creation of a temporary building, covering the pavement over Wood street below Mill. Referred to Street Committee to consult the borough attorney, and if they were advised that Council had the right to grant permission, to give it.

The Street Committee were instructed to remove the lamp in front of the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Pollock called attention to the fact that the Water Company had left Pond, Washington and Cedar streets in bad condition, and asked that the Company be officially notified of the fact. On motion the clerk was directed to notify the Company and ask that the streets mentioned be put in good condition.

The Steamboat John A. Wanmaker, on her return trip, ran aground off Five-mile point, where the Bristol Worst Mill excursionists were on board. She succeeded in getting afloat again after a two-hour delay.

Now that the Court has granted the Directors of the School Board privilege to borrow $10,000, we presume that the erection of the new School-house in the third ward will be commenced without unnecessary delay.

About five years ago a roll of butter was accidentally dropped down a well on Dorrance street. The other day it was found, brought up from its long resting-place, and its quality tested. We are told that its five years' submersion in water has preserved its purity in a remarkable degree, and that it is yet equal to some that is called "fresh," although it had somewhat of a cheesy flavor.

A picnic on the grounds surrounding the Friends' Meeting House at Pennsbury, on Saturday afternoon last, was a delightful affair. It was gotten up by the Friends First Day School at Pennsbury and the Union Sabbath School at the Creek School House in Pennsbury. About three hundred sat down to an elegantly furnished table at 5 o'clock. All seemed to enjoy the occasion.

The new front put to the drug store owned by Dr. Purcell is a very attractive one. The new plate-glass bulk window, the tasteful gold-leaf lettering, together with the olive-green paint relieved by gold stripes on the panels of the doors and windows, make a fine appearance. Displays in green and gold are among, if not the richest of any two color combinations. The decoration was done by James Lyndall, E. G.

A drew Quinton, the veteran and gentlemanly railroad conductor, was assaulted in his home in Trenton on Thursday night of last week, by a burly burglar who entered his house after midnight, ransacked the residence, and entered the chamber on the second story where Mr. Quinton was sleeping. Receiving a blow upon the head he raised the cry of murder, awaking the members of his family, and the burglar fled. The blow was, however, not serious, and next morning Mr. Quinton was again out duty.

At a recent Democratic meeting at Bridgeport, Conn., the orator of the evening waxed warm and shouted out, "If there is a Republican in this house I would like to have him rise and tell his feelings." A man in the back part of the room arose. "Are you a Republican?" said the orator. "How do you feel?" "I feel like one good egg among a bushel of rotten ones." The enthusiasm ended.

Samuel R. Mason, who two years ago ran on the Greenback ticket for Governor in this State, on Saturday evening came out publicly for the Republican tickets at Pittsburg. He says that the Republican party represents the needs of the country and the demands of the times, and that he is in harmony with its policy, its objects and its aims.

The next quarterly meeting of the Bucks County Temperance Alliance will be held at Sharon Park, near Newtown, on Wednesday morning, September 1st. Addresses will be made by Hon. Samuel Capper, of Manchester, England, Hon. C. C. Leigh, of Brooklyn, and Samuel P. Godwin, of Philadelphia.

A number of students from the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, are now camped on Burlington Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hellings and daughters Clara and Sylvia leave Bristol to-day to enjoy the ocean breeze at Long Branch.

Daniel Mincey still lingers at Ocean Grove, where he is reported to be enjoying himself to the full extent of the law of that moral sea-side resort.

Amos Conson of Buckingham and Charles A. Cappel of Doylestown, Republican candidates for County Treasurer, were in Bristol yesterday.

Charles H. Weyell and wife, who formerly resided here, spent a few days last week in Bristol. Mr. Weyell is the Assistant Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Philadelphia.

ATHLETIC REPUBLICANS ACTIVE.

A GAZETTE correspondent sends us encouraging news from that section. He says:

Bartholomew, to the number of ninety-three, met on Saturday evening last in the office of Hugh Morrow, Esq., and resolved to form themselves into a Garfield and Arthur Campaign Club.

Moreland and Horstman Republicans will, in all probability, unite with the Bartholomews, and by this means make a more effective organization.

The utmost harmony prevails in the Republican ranks in this section, and for this we must thank Hon. J. N. Evans and other active workers, who have by their persevering efforts effected this happy result, which is the harbinger of victory in November. We have no Hancock Republicans in this community, but quite a number of Democrats have declared their intention of voting for the heads of the Republican ticket.

A COLOGNE FOUNTAIN.—Mr. H. G. Peters, the Druggist, will on Saturday evening next, charge a fountain, whose springs will consist of the finest Cologne water. What tends to increase the attraction is the fact, that all are cordially invited to make use of same—free of charge.

CLEANINGS.

The Musical Convention of Bucks and Montgomery counties will be held at Ne-shaminy Falls Grove, Saturday, September 1th.

A boy was caught by the leg while bathing at Allompa, Pa., on Saturday, and drawn under the water. The assailant was a black animal with immense jaws. He struggled frantically and got away, but not until his leg had been so mangled that amputation was necessary. It is thought that an alligator escaped from a car in a railroad accident last Spring.

The G. A. B. Encampment at Bordentown, N. J., beginning August 16th, will be attended by many from this county. Great attractions are promised in the way of a Search light, bombardments, &c., on the 20th, which will make this a grand affair, and worthy a visit across the river.

A Kentucky mother has named her baby Winfield Scott Hancock English Smith. She is bound to distinguish him from other Smiths if front names can do it.

The Councils of Altoona will at once endeavor to effect a loan of $50,000 for the erection of water works.

The Whitaker estate, which has just been audited, aggregates $701,967, and less expenses for distribution among the heirs, $690,092. This settles the will question and all that the genuine will be asked implies. Dickerson is still liable to be tried for perjury and on various other charges, but there is no sign that it will be speedily done.

A New Jersey farmer heard a strange noise among his hens one night seventeen years ago, and fired a shot-gun from his bed-room window. The other day he received $300 from an unknown man, who stated that having his legs filled with bird-shot had made an honest man of him, and now, as he was about to die, he desired to reward the shooter.

The New Jersey State Agricultural Society will hold its twenty-second annual fair at Waverly, beginning Monday, September 20th, and continue through the week.

The Democrats of New York are trying to stir the Italians to vote against the Republican party because a Republican governor refused to interfere in behalf of Balbo, the wife murderer. This is on a par with the Democratic style of campaign argument everywhere.

Grasshoppers devoured an acre of tobacco for a Lancaster county farmer, leaving nothing but bare stalks, which he has plowed under, with the mental vow that he will raise no more of the weed.

DEATHS.

On Sunday night there died at this place Elizabeth Delville, a maiden lady, an aunt of Dr. Frank Belville, who had fasted absolutely for thirty-six days, and who for weeks previous had barely eaten enough to satisfy physical cravings. It seems that she was taken sick some time during last winter. As the days progressed her condition grew worse until she became so weak that her stomach refused to retain solid food of any kind. From January 22 to June 5 she lived on oysters, and of these not more than eight per day were given her. For two weeks after this life was sustained by daily allowances of curant water. About June 19 her stomach refused to hold even this, and since that time up to the hour of her death she has lived without nourishment of any kind. Dr. Belville attended her in his illness. The only medicine administered was in the form of pills, of which morphia was the principal ingredient. Before her illness she weighed about 170 pounds. It was thought she had lost during sickness about twenty pounds of flesh. Her features after death were natural, and her general appearance bore no indication of the long and severe fast which she had undergone. The peculiar symptoms of the case have excited some interest that Dr. Belville will probably prepare a paper in which will be given details that will be of very great interest to the medical profession.

An effort is now being made to break the will of the late Edwin Forrest, the eminent tragedian, which, if successful, will result in depriving the Forrest home of several hundred thousand dollars, and will transfer that amount of cash into the pockets of William B. Forrest, a distant cousin of the deceased, now living in Scotland.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN MANUAL.

A "Republican Manual" for the campaign of 1880, is announced as in print and very soon to be issued. It is written by Mr. E. V. Smealley, long known as a brilliant newspaper correspondent, and for many years a leading editorial writer on the New York Tribune. Leading features of the book will, of course, be biographies of the candidates. It will be the most authoritative and most complete sketch of General Garfield which will appear. Mr. Smealley was at one time the General's private secretary, and has been his intimate friend during the whole of his public career, and is therefore qualified by special advantages as well as by talent and experience for the task undertaken.

It is a book which earnest Republicans will delight in, and find the best of all arsenals from which to draw ammunition for campaign use: a book which the independent and conservative voters will study with interest and profit: a book which small Democratic stump speakers will steer clear of when they can. It is published by the American Book Exchange, New York, whose "Literary Revolution" has been the wonder and pleasure of book buyers for months past, and its price, reasonable, is only fifty cents, with seven cents extra for postage when sent by mail. Leading booksellers, agents of the publishers, will have it.
